Duration: 71 minutes
Audience: Grades 9 - Adult

Like a quarter of Vancouver's homeless youth, Melo and Ti-criss came from Quebec. They're seeking escape, adventure and maybe the meaning of life, but for now, their only certainty is love.

From east to west, from the streets to a hotel, with a welcome interlude in the country, they seek their place in society but often find only boredom. Getting high doesn't always chase away the tedium.

After a life of hard knocks and wounds from a painful childhood. Ti-criss chooses his ultimate solution: suicide. From this shocking end, Melo emerges bruised but stronger. In this unsettling look at youth living on the edge, the filmmaker acknowledges street kids for who they are and treats them with the humanity they deserve.

Junior High; Duration 27 min.

This is a story about children who are on the streets where drugs, alcohol and solvents are used every day. The story includes violence, because violence is a core issue of street life. Substance abuse by girls is very often associated with sexual abuse, and this link is made in the cartoon when Nina goes to work for Goldtooth. The cartoon can help young people face their reality, to reconstruct it in their minds, to gain some new perspective through Karate's story and see themselves. (BECAUSE OF SUBJECT MATTER - USE ONLY WITH A FACILITATOR)
